

- Question

Why should we spend money on a colour print of the newsletter and not keep the money for furnishing Beulah House?

- Answer

We are very mindful of the non-building related expenses. That is why the inaugural issue of the newsletter was not in colour. The quality in that issue turned out to be far from ideal, and not matching the superb effort devoted to producing it. The previous issue was in colour and it was well received.

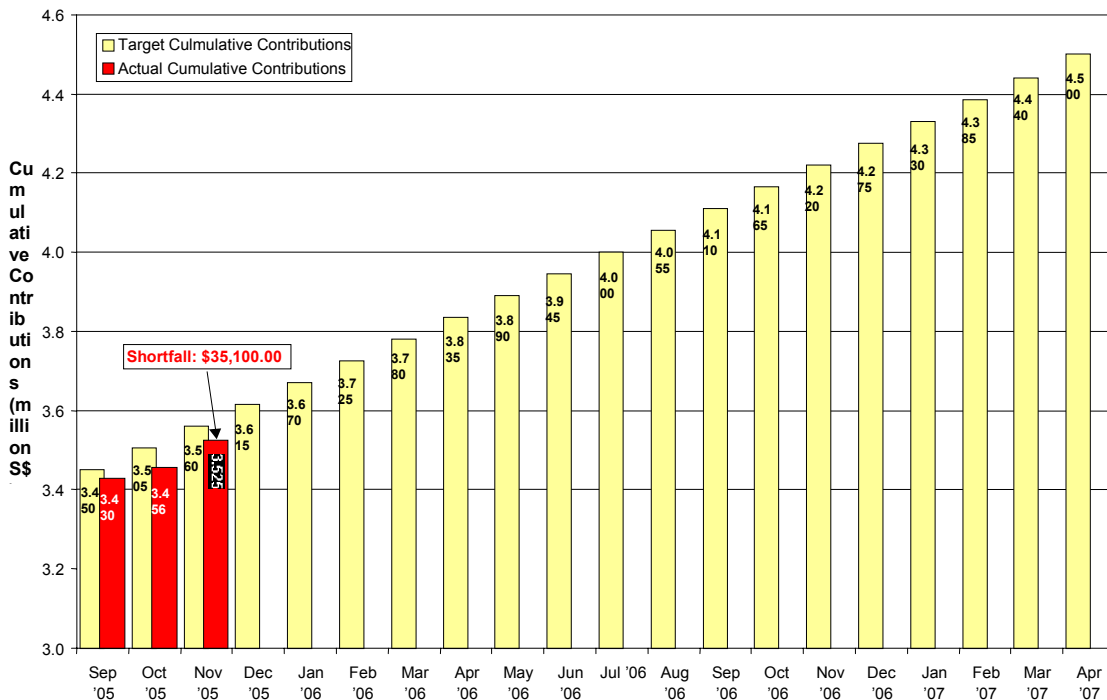

The Beulah Project is not just about a physical building but a project to build up the church, the people of God. In all activities planned to edify God's people, be it the Beulah Project or any other Church project, expenses are inevitable. As long as the work is meaningful and will lead to positive spiritual gains, we should not be afraid to devote funds to it, especially if the cost is reasonable.

We follow this principle for all non-building related expenses. However, so as not to create any misunderstanding, the committee will not draw funds from what are clearly designated for the purpose of the "building". Hence you will notice that the bookmarks, envelopes, newsletters and money boxes are all paid for by individual sponsors or fellowship groups who consider it worthwhile to contribute to these ventures. If you are prepared to sponsor any of such endeavors, which typically are in the order of several hundred dollars, we will be most happy to share our needs with you. We are very appreciative of all your contributions, whether in terms of sponsorship, talents, time and efforts, prayers or words of encouragement. Phil 4:17
